DISSERTATION PROPOSAL DEVELOPMENT FELLOWSHIP
SPRING 2011 WORKSHOP AGENDA

PROVINCIALIZING GLOBAL URBANISM

Research Director: Ananya Roy [ananya@berkeley.edu]
Research Director: Helga Leitner [eqj6139@umn.edu]

Asilomar Conference Grounds, Pacific Grove, CA
Wednesday June 1-5, 2011

This is the first of two workshops designed to help students prepare cogent and fundable dissertation proposals in their chosen field. The two goals of the first workshop are 1) to map the research field with respect to contributing disciplines, methods, sources, and area knowledge; and 2) to help prepare fellows for their pre-dissertation summer research. (The goal of the second workshop will be to focus on the mechanics and methods of writing a dissertation proposal). The two goals stand in close relation to each other: through a sustained and structured discussion of student proposals and their component parts, we hope to contribute to the mapping of the research field itself.

ARRIVAL, Wednesday, June 1: Reading handouts / packets will be distributed at registration along with other materials.

Wednesday Evening: Reception, 7-9pm.

Session 1: Introduction – getting to know one another

Students' summaries of their research (8 minutes per student – no power points)
(Thursday, 9-12 PM)

Session 2: Mapping the research field: What does it mean to provincialize global urbanism?

(Thursday, 2:00 PM – 5 PM)

Speakers: Ananya Roy, Helga Leitner, Eric Sheppard (guest)

Student breakouts (3 groups): How does your research relate to the research field? (Research statement (i). What are the 2 or 3 theoretical debates within which you wish to locate your work?)

Required readings:

-Roy, A. 2010. Slumdog cities: Rethinking subaltern urbanism. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research. DOI:10.1111/j.1468-2427.2011.01051.x

-Watson V. 2009. Seeing from the South: refocusing urban planning on the globe's central urban issues. Urban Studies 45, 11, 2259-2275.

-Bunnell, T. and Maringanti, A. 2010. Practising Urban and Regional Research Beyond Metrocentricity. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research 34, 415-420.

-Robinson, J. 2006. Inventions and interventions: Transforming cities – An introduction. Urban Studies 43, 2, 251-258.

-Leitner H., Sziarto K., Sheppard E. and Maringanti, A. 2007. Contesting urban futures: decentering neoliberalism. In Leitner, H., Peck, J. and Sheppard, E., eds. Contesting Neoliberalism: Urban Frontiers, New York: Guilford Press, 1-25.

-Leitner, H., Sheppard, E. and Sziarto, K. 2008. Spatialities of contentious politics. Transactions of the Institute of British Geographers 33, 157-172.

Session 3: The research process – theory and practice
(Friday, 9 AM – 12:00 PM)

Guest speaker: Teresa Caldeira

Student breakouts (4 groups):

Required readings:

-Caldeira, T. 2000. City of Walls. Introduction: Anthropology with an accent, 1-19.

-Caldeira, T. 2011. Inequalities and new visibilities in contemporary Sao Paulo. Unpublished manuscript.

Session 4: What is a research site?
(Friday, 2:00 PM – 5 PM)

Guest speaker: Michael Goldman

Student breakouts (3 groups): What is your research “site”? (Research statement (ii)).

Required readings:

-Goldman, M. 2011. Speculative urbanism and the making of the next world city. Forthcoming in: International Journal of Urban and Regional Research

-Simone, A. M. 2010. On cityness. In: City Life from Jakarta to Dakar. Routledge, 2-58.

Homework: Prepare mini document on your research project

The document should clearly state your research questions, research site and why these questions are important (no more than 350-500 words)

Session 5: Ethics and politics of research
(Saturday, 9 AM – 12:00 PM)

Speakers: Ananya Roy, Helga Leitner, and Michael Goldman

Group discussion: Discussion of readings. What challenges do you anticipate facing in your research? (Research statement (iii)).

Required readings:

-Gilbert, M. 1994. The politics of location: Doing feminist research at home. The Professional Geographer 46, 1, 90-96.

-Ortner, S. B. 2010. Access: Reflections on studying up in Hollywood. Ethnography, 11, 2, 211-233.

McFarlane, C. 2010. The comparative city: Knowledge, learning, urbanism. International Journal of Urban and Regional Research 34, 4, 725-742.

Session 6: Group discussion of mini documents on research projects
(Saturday, 2:00 PM – 5 PM)

-Sunday June 5, 9-10 am. Plenary wrap-up session (common problematics, summer requirements, homework, communication over the summer)

Session 7: Preparing for September: From the research field to the proposal
(Sunday, 10.00 AM – 12:00 PM)

DISSERTATION PROPOSAL DEVELOPMENT FELLOWSHIP
FALL 2011 WORKSHOP AGENDA

PROVINCIALIZING GLOBAL URBANISM

Research Directors: Helga Leitner and Ananya Roy

Radisson Plaza – Warwick Hotel, Philadelphia
Wednesday, September 14th – Sunday, September 18th

This is the second of two annual DPDF workshops designed to help graduate student fellows prepare dissertation proposals in their chosen field. The two goals of the second workshop are 1) to help fellows synthesize their summer research; and 2) to draft proposals for dissertation funding. The fall workshop focuses on the mechanics and the philosophy of proposal writing. The workshop also aims to challenge fellows to reflect on their summer research in ways that link meaningfully to their research field. In this, the goals of the fall workshop are closely related to the project of mapping a research field that was started during the spring workshop in Monterey.

Workshop Assignments

August 1, due on DPDF Google site: Brief reports on status of summer research

September 1, due on DPDF Google site: Draft dissertation proposal to be presented and discussed at the workshop. Fellows are expected to thoroughly read all proposals and to prepare a short presentation on the proposal they have been assigned to present (see below).

September 18, due on DPDF Google site: Proposals highlighting revisions made during the fall workshop

WORKSHOP SCHEDULE

Wednesday, September 14th

Arrival and registration

7 PM - Welcome Reception

Thursday, September 15th

Session 1: Plenary Session
(Thursday, 9 AM – 12:00 PM)

The Dissertation Proposal: Strategies and Funding Sources

- Welcome and Introductions
- Dissertation Funder Presentations

Session 2: (Thursday, 2:00 PM – 5 PM)

2-4 pm: Welcome back to the Provincializing Global Urbanism group and discussion of summer fieldwork including:

Key findings and how these have shaped dissertation proposals
Methods of research put into action and their limitations
Ethical and personal challenges of research

4-4:15 pm: Break

4:15-5:00 pm: General discussion of the writing of research proposals, specifically a) research questions; b) contributions to existing literature; c) research methodology; d) generalizability

Friday September 16th

Session 3: (Friday, 9 AM – 12 PM)

Presentation of individual proposals

Note that we have grouped proposals by theme to take account of similarities and connections across these proposals in research question, methodology, and field literature. We do not expect fellows to address these themes in their proposal presentations and discussions.

Each proposal will be presented by a peer fellow. This presentation will be no more than 5 minutes and will summarize the proposal and present its key strengths and weaknesses. Comments should not be addressed directly to the author. The group will then discuss the proposal for 15 minutes. Finally the author will have 10 minutes to respond. We do not intend for authors to “defend” their proposal. Instead, we recommend that this time be used to further a discussion of the proposed research (including clarifications) and share any particular dilemmas regarding the research questions and research design.

Global Urbanism

1. 9-9:30 am: Stuart Schrader (presented by Marisol)
2. 9:30-10 am: Sergio Montero (presented by Stuart)
3. 10:00-10:30 am: Marisol LeBron (presented by Sergio)

Break: 10:30-11 am

11-12 noon: Individual meetings + breakout groups

11-11:30 am:

Helga meets with Sergio

Ananya meets with Stuart

11:30-12 noon:

Helga meets with Marisol

Ananya meets with Radhika

All other fellows break out into groups of 3-4 to discuss summer fieldwork and research proposals.

Session 4: (Friday, 2:00 PM – 5 PM)

Presentation of proposals: Urban Governmentalities

1. 2-2:30 pm: Jose Bortoluci (presented by Elisabeth)
2. 2:30-3:00 pm Jacob Doherty (presented by Jose)
