

APN RPF FELLOW

The APN Research Policy Fellowship (RPF) is designed to support African scholars who are former APN fellows of the past five (5) years seeking affiliation with African regional and national policy and practitioner institutions, think tanks, and advocacy centers (operating in the fields of peacebuilding, security, and development) for up to 6 months.

Ernest Bagson | SD Dombo University of Business and Integrated Development Studies, Ghana

Project Title: Exploring Youth Understandings, Perceptions, Motivations, and Vulnerabilities to Violent Extremism and Terrorism in Ghana

Ernest Bagson is a lecturer in the Department of Local Governance and City Management, SD Dombo University of Business and Integrated Development Studies (UBIDS), Ghana. He holds a Bachelor of Education (Science) and a Master of Philosophy in Development Studies from the University of Cape Coast. He also holds a PhD in Development Studies from the University of Ghana. Based on his multidisciplinary background, his research areas of interest include urban development management, peace and security. He has several publications in peer review journals to his credit and has presented several academic papers at both local and international levels. Ernest has obtained several competitive academic awards, including the SSRC 2017/2018 Next Gen Dissertation Completion Fellowship.